HONGKONG, FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1903.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

The subject of cruelty to animals has been brought to the notice of the public from time to time in the local Press by flagrant cases which, in some instances, have found their way in the proceedings of the summary Court, and in others have only had notice in the columns of the newspapers for want of any person who would lay an information for a prosecution. It has been left to the public-spiritedness of one of our most prominent citizens to bring the subject forward in such a form that, we trust, may lead to some definite action being taken as a result of Mr. E. A. Hewett's suggestion for the formation of a local society for the prevention of cruelty to animals. The grounds upon which he urges the necessity for the provision of such an institution in Hongkong are sufficiently convincing in themselves as expressed in his letter, which we have pleasure in publishing in another column. The raison d'être, as Mr. Hewett says, for such an institution which has been found to be needed in Great Britain where for so many years past public sentiment has been educated to consider the humane treatment of animals, applies with more force in the case of Hongkong where the community is largely composed of ignorant lower class natives "who neither by association nor training are restrained from the infliction of suffering upon dumb creation." In England so great is the feeling in favour of prevention of cruelty to animals that the membership of the society in existence has greatly increased, and sympathies are larger, and its aims are becoming far better known than they have been in the past. It is believed that the society has now at its back the vast majority of the working classes of the country. Among all classes and in all ranks a vigorous campaign is carried on to induce Parliament to make such laws as would bring about a total abolition of any legal torture to animals, the latest action in this direction being taken by the national Anti-Vivisection Society which aims at the "eradication of all immoral and detestable practice of vivisection" as allowed in the country. Although we would not go to the length of saying that a like degree of torture or anything approaching it, is practised in this Colony, Mr. Hewett's letter is sufficiently convincing that action cannot be long deferred in order to have established in our midst some form of a protective society whereby dumb creation could be freed from the sufferings unnecessarily inflicted upon it by that class of Chinese and others who seem to take a heinous pleasure in causing pain to such animals as can find no relief from them. The report of the Captain Superintendent of Police for last year shows that there were no less than 34 cases reported to the authorities in connection with cruelty to animals and furious driving, and assuming that a very small proportion of the number of cases belonged to the latter category, it must be concluded that the 62 persons, who were convicted under the charges brought against them, represented but a small proportion of the total number of cases which escaped the attention of the police. It is perfectly evident that some action has already been proposed in private circles in order to have a society of the kind advocated established here, but nobody has been found with sufficient time and leisure to take up the secretarial duties of so humane an institution. We may probably be excused the suggestion that the author of this public movement might himself devote a small amount of his time in order to assume the post of provisional secretary pending the formation of the society in the usual course. We are not blind to the fact that in making such a proposition we should be encroaching considerably upon the time and attention of perhaps one of the busiest, most energetic and public-spirited individuals of Hongkong, who is not only willing, but has shown himself ever ready to serve public interests whenever they have made any call upon him for his acquiescence.

THE Paris papers say that the Chinese masses know little about the Manchurian question, and would scarcely understand it even if they were supplied with the facts.

THE London Post of 19th inst. says that the Kurds have been committing terrible massacres in Asia Minor, the victims being Armenians. Hundreds of inoffensive Christians have been most cruelly murdered.

MANY of the business men of Manila are waiting with deep interest for the Commission to act upon the suggestion offered by Commissioner Smith some time ago that the Government pay duty on imports.

A LARGE band of ladrones made an attack upon the small town of Jovallera, Province of Albay, P. I., several days ago, reports of which have just reached Manila. The fight was sharp and short and resulted in the ladrones being put to flight after suffering a loss of fifteen men killed, and an equal number wounded.

LORD Salisbury, says the London correspondent of the Manchester Courier, has so greatly improved in health that Walmer Castle is being prepared for his reception shortly. It is expected that he will make a prolonged stay at his delightful marine residence. If he has been an infrequent visitor there, it is because the strong air of this part of the Kent coast did not suit the late Lady Salisbury, who, it will be remembered, was taken ill at Walmer some years ago, and had to be removed to a more balmy climate.

A SPECIAL cable to the New York Herald from its Washington correspondent states that the joint Army and Navy Board has recommended that six regiments now in the Philippines be returned to the United States as soon as practicable. There are now in the Islands between 22,000 and 25,000 troops, of which 4,700 are scouts. This leaves but about 18,300 white troops there at the present time and when this latest order is complied with, there will not be more than 12,000 American soldiers left in the Philippines.

MR. Kimura, of the Fujita Gumi, Tokio, which is working a gold mine at Kinoseki, Keelung, told an interviewer at Shimonoseki that the yield of gold at the mine at present is 5 kan per month. The company is introducing improvements in the way of digging. Since the year before last they have spent Yen 280,000 on the mine, and are ready to spend Yen 320,000 more when certain investigations are concluded. The company is arranging to build an electric tramway in the mine to facilitate conveyance of ore and other materials.

A SPECIAL dispatch to the Herald from Rome, dated 19th inst., says: "The King and Queen of Italy who were thrown from their automobile by its crashing into a tree, were more seriously injured than was thought at first. They are not, however, in any danger, and beyond bruises and possible internal hurt, will recover. The accident has raised a great outcry against the speeding of automobiles, and especially against the employment of inexperienced or inefficient chauffeurs. The terrible list of fatalities in the Madrid race combined with the accident to the royal family have rather put automobilism under the ban temporarily."

CANTON NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CANTON, 23rd July.

THE CANTON-HANKOW RAILWAY.
Those who want to see an interesting sight should visit the Canton terminus of the Canton-Hankow Railway. The grading has been all done as far as Fat Shan and the bridges will soon be completed. The rails and ties from Belgium are arriving daily and are being piled up alongside of the track. Trucks for construction purposes are arriving from the United States and some cabs for the locomotives. I understand that about 20 engines have arrived at Hongkong and will soon be brought to Canton. Rails have been laid along the track for about a mile and the trucks are being run out on these rails. The engines of the New York Elevated Railways which have been discarded for electricity are being sent out for construction purposes on the Canton Railway. The authorities are pushing this end of the railway as fast as possible. It is not certain when the road will be open for traffic, but the managers hope to have the line to Fat Shan completed by the end of September. I understand that engines will be used between here and Fat Shan and not electricity as at first reported.

THE CANTON BELT LINE.
It is being talked of as a settled matter that a belt line will run round Canton from the river at Wong Sha down to the East river. I suppose all the obstacles in the way can be overcome but they are many. The graves around the north of the city are so numerous that there will be strong opposition. This line will be operated by electricity.

ROBBERY.
The men in charge of the railway have some difficulty in keeping hold of their property. Many of the men who seek employment come with the hope of picking up something else than the reward of their labours and then leaving suddenly. On Monday night the agent in charge of the Material Department had his gold watch and chain stolen during the night while a guard of soldiers kept watch over the building. Small thieving is very common.

SURVEYORS.
We ought soon to know all about Canton. Surveyors have been at work for months measuring streets and taking elevations and observations and everything else that can be of interest. The Chinese cannot make out what is to follow all the measuring and "photographing," as they call it.

FLOODS.
A very serious flood is reported from Lien Chau, two hundred and fifty miles north west from Canton. The water has not been so high for twenty-five years. A jam of logs in the river just above the city caused the water to rise and great damage was done in Lien Chau city. The houses in the lower section were completely covered and many of the mud walls gave way.

THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

We are pleased to give publicity to the following letter, of to-day's date, which we have received from Mr. E. A. Hewett.

To the Editor of the Hongkong Telegraph.
Sir,—From time to time notices appear in the local Press of cases of cruelty to animals and we have only too good reason for believing that whatever the actual merits or demerits of each individual case brought to the notice of the public may be, a very great amount of unnecessary and easily preventable cruelty takes place in our midst.

For some time past inquiries have been made privately with a view to the formation of a local society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, but progress has been impossible owing to the difficulty in finding some one with sufficient leisure to undertake the duties of Secretary.

That a need exists for such a Society will, I think, be generally admitted, this more readily so when it is remembered the good work done by the Royal Society at home.

If such a Society is needed in Great Britain where for so many years past public sentiment has been educated to consider the humane treatment of animals, how much more must this be the case in a community such as this, largely composed of ignorant lower class natives who neither by association nor training are restrained from the infliction of suffering upon dumb creation.

I feel convinced from the sympathy already expressed in various quarters that a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will meet with the required support, once a definite scheme is put before the public, and I am encouraged in the belief that our Chinese friends will also readily join in the movement from the fact that charitable persons in the interior of China found and maintain asylums for ownerless and sick animals.

I now therefore venture to urge this question upon public notice through the local press, and to ask those interested to take the matter up without delay in order that a Society may be formed for the protection of our dumb friends.

While asking assistance from the public we must not ignore the good work done by the Government which is fully alive to the necessity for putting down all forms of cruelty to animals, and the ample provision to deal with this evil provided for by the law; but as we know how greatly this good work is supplemented elsewhere by similar institutions we would wish to see in our Colony a like Society.

I feel sure it only needs a little energy on our part for us to do what is being so worthily done in other parts of the Empire.

Yours obediently,
EDBERT A. HEWETT.

FAMINE RELIEF BOATS
PIRATED.

A correspondent informs us that last week the Canton Charitable Society despatched two heavily laden rice junks to the famine-stricken districts in Kwangsi, and they had got nearly to Cham Chow prefecture, some two miles from the borders of Kwangsi Province, when a band of pirates attacked them and, swarming on to the junks, overpowered the crews whom they proceeded to bind and gag. A scuffle ensued and several persons were injured. The head boatman was taken away and a heavy ransom is demanded for his release. Some of the pirates have since been captured and are awaiting their inevitable end.

THE KWANGSI REBELLION.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Times wrote the following article, which was printed in London on 22nd inst.:—The seeds of rebellion have gradually, but unmistakably, been sprouting in the Provinces of Kwangtung and Kwangsi for the past five years. I may mention that the emigrant from the Middle Kingdom to the regions without is almost invariably a Southern Chinese, hailing from either the Kwangtung or Fokien Provinces. After a lapse of years the result of his industry is a good banking account, and he generally elects to visit his home and perhaps settle down there. His experiences abroad have taught him to appreciate the blessings of good government, sound laws, and the comforts of foreign methods. He arrives on his native soil, and is struck by the poverty of the masses, the excessive "squeeze" of the officials, and the lack of innumerable little things that help to make life more agreeable. The man at once becomes an ardent reformer, but on the lines of "China for the Chinese." Being a man of means, his influence is felt in his village, and it is not long before he is the centre of a little clique which is, like some of my countrymen from the Emerald Isle, "agin' the Government." Now this state of things has been steadily going on in South China for some years. The malcontents have been arming themselves with the most modern weapons, and a well able to use them. In the spring of 1899 I witnessed a fight between the rebels and the troops of the Canton Viceroy not very far from the Canton Station of Kumbuck on the West River—a fight in which the rebels, though in the minority, were easily victorious. The adjoining Province of Kwangsi, always the happy hunting ground of dacoits and pirates, has become the centre of the rebellious spirits, who have had practically a free hand since the Governor, Wang Chih Chun, has taken over the reins of office. Ever since his arrival at the capital, Kwei-lin, he has proved weak all along the line, so much so that the rebels to-day practically hold the province, and the Governor, in dread of his life, has removed to the city of Wuchow on the West River, a port reached by foreign steamers. Not content to confine their operations to this territory alone the insurgents have crossed over the borders of the adjacent Provinces of Kweichow and Hunan, and unless the movement be promptly checked there is high probability that it may develop on similar lines to the Taiping Rebellion of sixty years ago.

If anyone wants to know exactly where to find it when he has studied with sufficient closeness the serial story recently opened in Tai Bhi. The story is called Hidden, not Lost, and this notion for advertising it is neat and original. A bag containing 500 sovereigns has been hidden somewhere, and the hiding place will be revealed in the story. The reader who is sharpest at picking up the clues will be the first to walk straight to the spot where the 500 sovereigns are hidden," says the editor of the paper; and this spot is "a public place accessible to all." This is the royal road to wealth, if one discovers the right signpost.

TIENTSIN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Tientsin, July 16th. Nothing definite yet. Report has it that the Russian Minister has advised Russian civilians to clear out of Newchwang and Port Arthur before a certain date, it may be true, but I cannot verify the report locally. We hear also that the Japanese are mobilizing, and as a finishing touch that war has been declared. But when it comes to that Reuter will be our best friend. The only thing certain is that the Russian Minister is still away now at Port Arthur, now at Newchwang with the Admiral, General, Minister of War etc., which is the surest indication that the crisis is not past and probably becoming more acute. The accompanying letter from Newchwang shows how things are going there. They seem to have lapsed into a state of absolute indifference.—NEWCHWANG.

There is little of importance to be chronicled here, everything is going on smoothly in the hands of the Provisional Administration, we are all being Russified slowly but surely, the process goes on so imperceptibly that I don't suppose a single member of the community would own to it. As a sign of the times, strange Chinese addressed in the streets by foreigners in unexceptionable Chinese, often answer back in Russian.

New buildings are being put up by the administration. The new consulate which is a very handsome structure is now getting its finishing touches; the grounds are being most artistically laid out and comprise an artificial lake. Foundations are being put in for post and telegraph offices on the site of the "Kwan Ting" formerly used by the Taotai as a reception hall for foreign officials.

Some two or three months ago the important question of the day was "when are the Russians going." One never hears the question asked now, it seems to have died a natural death, still if you happen to ask one of the prophets he is likely to tell you, "Oh! they are preparing to leave next month." But the general opinion is they are here for good.

The glorious Fourth of July passed off very quietly. Our popular American Consul, Mr. Miller, gave a reception, the Russian General very courteously sending his band who played the "Star Spangled Banner," "Hail Columbia," and other national airs.

A new Russian company is being established here, the East Asiatic Timber and Mining Co. It is generally believed their intentions are to run launches with passengers and cargo between here and the principal up river ports. A stern-wheeler arrived for the company a few days ago, and I understand they have taken over the tow boats and lighters of the Newchwang Steam Ferry and Lighter Co.

Prices of native produce are running high; millet has gone up 15% within the last month. Japan is buying all kinds of food stuffs at any price.

Large numbers of mules, horses, camels and other forms of supplies are coming into Manchuria from Mongolia where the Russians have been purchasing everything in the shape of a beast of burden that they could lay hands on. I say purchasing, but I believe commandeering is nearer the mark. I hear to-day that an extra 150,000 tons coal has just been purchased by them from the Engineering and Mining Company, who have had two or three steamers run to and fro between Chingwantao and Port Arthur with only coal for some time.

THE NEW PESO.

LEGAL TENDER.

The Cable News of 20th inst. says:—To-day the new peso as legal tender in the Philippines becomes a reality. The Commission has issued orders that now and in the future the new coins shall be disbursed in the payment of all employees of the Government with the exception of those whose wage is stipulated in Mexican currency. After January 1, all wages will be in Pesos.

The Commission has received authority from Washington to issue the gold drafts on the Mainland to those desiring exchange as was suggested would be done, in the Cable News of the 18th inst. The Government is thereby protected against the evil that would result were the new coins to be redeemed in gold on demand.

The Cable News last evening received a message from its special correspondent in New York saying that the Indra-mayo had just left that port with 15,000,000 coins of the new subsidiary currency. These coins were minted at Philadelphia and constitute about $8,000,000 in value. Besides these subsidiary coins there is en route to the Islands on the Brischul by way of Suva, about $1,200,000 of the new peso. This shipment is expected to arrive in Manila about the 25th of July. These coins are also the product of the Philadelphia mint.

TRADE WITH TIBET.

REASONS FOR THE COMMISSION.

Allahabad, 5th July.

The Pioneer in noticing a recent article in the Indian Daily News on the Tibetan question says that the real object of the mission is not so much to settle trade routes as the writer seems to think as to improve trade relations. At the present moment the Indian trader is at the mercy of the Tibetan authorities who exact tolls and impose restrictions at their own free will.

Considering the impunity with which the Tibetans cross our borders it is a little anomalous that no subject of the Indian Government may enter Tibetan territory except as an act of grace and at the risk of his property. Trade cannot flourish under such circumstances and it is with the object of remedying these evils and preventing the door being closed altogether to trade—as it has been on more than one occasion—that the present Commission has been sent.

THE "SU PAO" SEDITION CASE.

While it is customary to speak of the trial that is now going on at the Mixed Court between the Chinese Government and certain individual Chinese as the "Su Pao Case," yet most of the men concerned seem not to have been responsible for the "Su Pao" at all. The editor and manager of the paper, it is reported, has already fled to Japan. Two of the men arrested have been the authors of two Chinese publications. Another man seems not to have been responsible for any of the misdeeds that have been complained of in the present case; it is simply stated that he was once concerned in the Hankow Plot of Insurrection, for which several men were summarily executed by Viceroy Chang Chih Tung. The Chinese officials, therefore, desire that this man shall be handed over to them for legal procedure, which would mean, in all probability, decapitation. No evidence, however, has been forthcoming that this man thus accused was really guilty in the Hankow case. What we wish specially to note is that the Chinese authorities, through the Municipal Council, arrested him, along with others, as being concerned in late publications of a mutinous character; and it was not stated that the desire to have him arrested was because he was connected several years ago with the Hankow insurrection. The method of getting hold of the man, whom they have been long wanting to seize and behead, is hardly the method that commends itself to the methods that prevail within this Municipality.

We therefore give special reference to this one feature of the case that something may be done at once to prevent this one man, arrested by the aid of the Municipal Council, from being handed over to the Chinese authorities at Hankow. The Assessor the other day seemed to imply that this was a separate case, that this one man would receive separate treatment; and yet the fact is the man was arrested on the same charge as the others. If the charge of which he was arrested is now found to be baseless, it may be taken for granted that the charge against him for participation in the Hankow Plot is also baseless and he should therefore be released, rather than be handed over to the Chinese authorities. It has been supposed that the Hankow case was ended. There were hundreds who were connected with the plot, but for several years their arrest has been passed by. For the Chinese authorities to use an underhand way for arresting one man, who, it is supposed, was concerned in that plot, and to secure his arrest by means of the Municipal Council and the Consular Body, is not a method that commends itself to us.

There is still somewhat the impression that though an arrangement has been made between the Consular Body and Taotai that these men should be tried and punished within the limits of the Municipality, yet the Chinese authorities will ultimately succeed in getting them into their own possession. The only preventive is a close and constant oversight on the part of the Authorities lest the men arrested be ordered to be transferred to the care of the native police of the Native City and to the jurisdiction of the Chinese.

If the men who have been arrested confess to having written the parts that have been quoted in the charge of the complainant, it would seem as if punishment would be deserved. But it is well to bear in mind that these men would have been more on their guard if they had been outside the limits of the International Settlements, and had not felt the security of the protection of foreign rule. If men who write and print ideas contrary to the Government are to be treated as guilty of mutiny and worthy of decapitation, when the expression of opinion is made within the foreign settlements, then the Authorities here should make the fact known, so that there will be no misunderstanding on the part of the Chinese. It is now supposed that within these Settlements there is full freedom of the press. If, however, there is to be any limitation to this liberty, as exists in some of the European countries, then the nature of the limitation should be known beforehand, instead of waiting until certain persons are arrested and are tried according to Chinese law. The present situation is characterized by indefiniteness. Neither the Chinese nor foreigners know exactly the degree of liberty that is to be granted to the Chinese who reside within our limits. If Chinese who reside here are to be treated by the Chinese authorities in the same way as those who live under Chinese rule, this should also be made known. At present both the Consuls and Municipal Council have taken the position that Chinese who reside here will be differently treated from those who reside outside the limits of the Municipality. The outcome of this very interesting case will show whether there is really any difference or not, and will help to define matters somewhat, at least as determined by the British Assessor, who is supposed to speak for the British Government, and even, in this case, for the whole Consular Body.—Shanghai Mercury.

JAPANESE STEAMER FREIGHTS.

According to a Japan contemporary, the total freight on the goods imported by the steamers of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Osaka Shosen Kaisha, Toyo Kisen Kaisha, Mitsui, Nisui Bishi, and Mr. Oye, during last year, amounted to ¥4,999,568. Of this sum, ¥3,971,600 was received by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, ¥990,400 by the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, ¥161,400 by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, ¥115,144 by the Mitsui firm, ¥161,000 by the Nisui Bishi firm, and ¥99,955 by Mr. Oye. In payment of freight on goods exported, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha received ¥2,718,400, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha ¥3,478,800, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha ¥3,610,000, the Mitsui firm ¥821,017, the Nisui Bishi ¥187,000, and Mr. Oye ¥31,812. This makes a total of ¥4,467,239 as compared with ¥4,999,568 received on imported goods.

THE HANKOW-CANTON RAILWAY.

Mr. T. Ishii, a Japanese engineer who has been employed by the Hankow-Canton Railway Company, arrived at Kobe from Hongkong a few days ago, and was interviewed by the Osaka Mainichi's representative. From a résumé of his remarks published by the Japan Times we learn that the company, which has its head office in Shanghai and a branch office in Canton, has a capital of 100,000,000 taels, which has been subscribed chiefly by a Belgian Syndicate and to a less amount by Americans and Chinese. The company's surveyors consist, besides Mr. Ishii, of Messrs. S. Kishi, S. Yamamoto, H. Sugano, F. Ota, T. Oka, and J. Ishizawa, all Japanese, and one British subject and twenty Americans. The trunk line between Hankow and Canton measures 800 miles and the branch lines 200 miles in all. The cost of the construction works is 100,000 taels per mile. The work already completed is the Canton-Samsui section (10 miles), a branch line, and stations have already been built on this section. Two branch lines are also to be laid in Hunan and the surveys for that purpose have just been finished. These lines will complete the working programme, for the first period, and the trunk line is to be constructed in the second period. The work of construction will, it is believed, progress smoothly except in Hunan Province where there is still much anti-foreign feeling. On the whole the work has so far been easier than in Japan. The railway has a gauge of 4 ft. 8 in. and 75-pound rails are used. The railway is to be finished in three years from July of last year. When the engineers go surveying, they travel in six vessels, two carrying the party and the rest carrying soldiers, coolies, Chinese officials, etc.

Referring to the recent attack of a Chinese mob on a party of engineers, Mr. Ishii said the party included five Japanese engineers, namely, Messrs. Kishi, Yamamoto, Sugano, Oka, and Ota and an American engineer. While they were taking refreshments at a place 70 miles distant from Canton on April 28th they saw about 300 Chinese, all of them fantastically attired, approaching the inn in which the party were sitting. A Chinese official, not suspecting that the crowd meant mischief, took away the drums that they were beating, whereupon the mob at once opened fire, and threw the Chinese official over a precipice. The Japanese and American engineers at once decamped, with the result that British, American, and German gunboats were despatched to the place soon afterwards. These rowdies hate the Manchu Government intensely and their object in making such a demonstration was to cause trouble between the foreigners and the Manchu Government so as to ruin, if possible, the latter.

THE STRAITS DOLLAR.

Correspondence regarding the design and size of the Straits Settlements dollar was laid on the table of the Straits Legislative Council on the 17th inst. Much of it relates to telegrams announcing the decision of the Legislative Council and the general arrangements necessary with the Treasury and the Mint. The official description of the new coin design is—

The said dollar shall have for the obverse impression Our Effigy consisting of head and bust, wearing the Imperial Crown and the Robe of State, with the Collar of the Garter and the Badge of the Bath, and looking to the Right, with the legend "Edward VII King and Emperor" and for the reverse impression a scroll, the upper and lower quarters of which shall contain the Chinese characters, for "One Dollar," while the corresponding Malay characters are contained in the quarters to the right and left. The words "Straits Settlements" shall be inscribed above, and the words "One Dollar" and the date below the scroll.

The Governor recommended that it should be one-sixteenth smaller diameter than the British dollar, with the Royal Standard or King's head on obverse and lion rampant on reverse, with the words "Straits dollar" and date, all in high relief. The Secretary of State wanted to know why the smaller coin was suggested and the Governor's reply was—

Smaller diameter very desirable to easily distinguish coin from British and Mexican dollars when counting as everyone will wish to keep them separate also if a slightly thicker will probably ring different.

It was not found possible to alter the design without great delay, but the Mint said—

It will be practicable to reduce the diameter of the new Straits Dollar by one-sixteenth. This will give a higher relief, and as far as can be done without creating difficulty in striking the coin, as high a relief as possible will be given. The work of preparing the matrices will be proceeded with as rapidly as possible.

That was on June 9, when the work of preparing the matrices was being pushed forward with all speed, and the Governor was left free to make his own arrangements with the Bombay Mint as to the supply of silver.

We know that a large number of dollars were sent last week to Bombay, and that provision has now been made for $90,000 for seigniorage at 14 per cent for the remainder of the year. It may therefore be calculated that 6,000,000 of the new coin are anticipated to be ready during the current year, and assuming that the first delivery will not be later than the beginning of August, that is at the rate of 14 million dollars a month.

At what stage the authorities will consider that a sufficiency of the new coin is in circulation, with the consequent prohibition of the importation of the Mexican, and its subsequent demonetisation, must remain a matter of conjecture, but it is obvious that the process will be a slow one, as the Currency Report anticipated. In the meantime the Mexican is rolling into the Settlements, and it looks as if some one was going to be loaded up with a good many.—S. F. Press.

RUSSIA AND THE ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE.

Reuter's Berlin correspondent telegraphed on 16th ult.:—In diplomatic quarters here it is stated that Russia has for some time past been endeavouring to dissolve the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, and that the visit of General Kuropatkin, the Russian Minister of War, to Japan was arranged for that purpose. General Kuropatkin is said to have been selected as being one of the most experienced Orientalists in Russia; and one who has been most successful in Asiatic affairs. He bears, it is said, an official mandate from the Russian Government to offer Japan material advantages in the East in return for her adopting an attitude of neutrality with regard to the development of Russia's Manchurian policy, which comprises Corea as a Russian sphere of influence. Naturally, it is added, Japan is expected to sever her connection with Great Britain gradually.
